Thank you for your letter of 28 July. I have consulted with the office concerned with your case and I understand that you have recently been in touch with certain members of my staff. I have been informed that one of my officers is looking into your case and I believe he either has been or will be in touch with you in the near future.

I understand the difficult and frustrating nature of your present situation. Authorities involved with refugee relief programs have advised me that sponsorship is facilitated if aid is sought through the established volunteer agencies. I urge you to seek advice and counsel from these agencies, because they are the best equipped to provide the personal attention warranted in your individual situation. For your information, the volunteer agencies have been highly successful in helping thousands of your countrymen resettle into new and useful lives in America. I am confident this system will work to your benefit over the long run. In the meantime, please feel free to correspond with my staff regarding developments in your case.

I thank you for your cooperation with the U.S. Government in the past, and send you my congratulations on your safe arrival in America.

Sincerely,

/s/ W. E. Colby

Mr. William Colby
Director of Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Colby:

It is my great honor to write to you, but excuse me for using your official address. I left Saigon on April 29 and reunited at Fort Chaffee with my family.

I wrote a letter to [REDACTED] and to [REDACTED] but I have no answer. I would like to see some old friends of mine, or anyone of your staff.

Sir, I am looking for a sponsor for my family. I do not know how long I have to stay here. I would like very much to be relocated near Washington, D. C., or in Virginia.

I will appreciate very much your letter or contact with your staff officer.

Sincerely, yours,

(EXECUTIVE REGISTRY FILE V-1)
